

Dear Parents,

Our topic in Year One this half term is 'Getting to Know You'. To help the children to talk about themselves and their families we would appreciate it if you could send in a photograph of your child with their family. These will be shared in the classroom with other children.

In science we are learning about how we have changed since we were babies. To help our learning please send in a photograph of your child as a baby/toddler. Photos will be returned by the end of the half term.

In Geography we will be learning about the weather in our country and the weather around the world. We will be comparing hot and cold places and discussing suitable clothing for different climates.

As always we welcome parent support in the classroom. If you wish to help in school on a regular basis please contact your child's class teacher.

Thank you for your continued support.

Watch the weather forecast or ask your grown-up to help you to research it online.

Talk to your family about how the different symbols are used to show different types of weather.
